Come meet Susan Barton and learn why bright children struggle first with spelling, then with written expression, and eventually hit a wall in reading development by third grade — if not sooner.

Susan will share:

- The symptoms and causes of dyslexia
- Dyslexia's inheritance patterns and the genetic link
- The gifted areas that come with dyslexia
- Effective tutoring methods
- Simple classroom accommodations needed to succeed
- Why tutoring alone is not enough

This free seminar is open to the public. Parents, teachers, administrators, reading specialists and other professionals are encouraged to attend. Susan will stay after the presentation to answer questions from the audience.
